REPUBLICAN CALL.

HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF COLORADO, DENVER, CO., JUNE 12, 1878.

At a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee, held at this place, it was ordered that the State Republican convention be held on the 7th of August, 1878, at Denver, Colorado, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for one governor, one lieutenant governor, one secretary of state, one state treasurer, one auditor of state, one superintendent of public instruction, two regents of the University, one attorney-general, and one representative in congress; and transact such other business as may be deemed necessary. The committee fixed the basis of representation in this convention at one delegate for each county, and one delegate for every one hundred voters or fraction thereof exceeding fifty, polled for Governor Rount at the general election in 1876. In accordance with the above, the following apportionment for representation was determined upon:

Adams	23	Johnson	6
Boulder	16	Lake	3
Bent	4	Lamar	3
Costilla	4	La Plata	3
Conejos	5	Las Animas	2
Citrus	4	Ouray	2

The Committee on the basis of representation for the general assembly, provided for in the constitution of the state.

W. H. PIERCE, Chairman.
J. R. TOWNSEND, Secretary.

At a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee, held at this place, it was ordered that the State Republican convention be held on the 7th of August, 1878, at Denver, Colorado, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for one governor, one lieutenant governor, one secretary of state, one state treasurer, one auditor of state, one superintendent of public instruction, two regents of the University, one attorney-general, and one representative in congress; and transact such other business as may be deemed necessary.

The committee fixed the basis of representation in this convention at one delegate for each county, and one delegate for every one hundred voters or fraction thereof exceeding fifty, polled for Governor Rount at the general election in 1876. In accordance with the above, the following apportionment for representation was determined upon:

It is suggested that the republicans of the county meet in their respective precincts on Saturday, July 13th, to nominate candidates for the offices of precinct justice of the peace and constable, appoint precinct committees, and select delegates to the said county convention, in which precincts will be entitled to representation upon the following basis: One delegate for each precinct and one additional delegate for every 25 votes or fraction thereof exceeding 25, cast for Governor Rount in 1876. With such ratio as the basis the following apportionment is made:

Precinct No. 1	Big Horn	2 Delegates.
" 2	Black's Mill	2 "
" 3	Monument	3 "
" 4	South Water	2 "
" 5	Colorado City	2 "
" 6	Chloride	2 "
" 7	Fort Collins	15 "
" 8	Wheatland	3 "
" 9	Summit Park	2 "
" 10	Flourmont	2 "
" 11	Manitou	3 "
" 12	Four Mile	2 "
" 13	Little Fountain	2 "
" 14	Edgerton	2 "
" 15	Big Sandy	1 "

By order of the republican county committee.
N. S. CULVER, Chairman.

Last year we were told that the democratic house had saved $30,000,000 in the appropriations. During the last session they have appropriated $16,000,000 for the deficiencies of last year, and will be obliged to appropriate more at the next session.

The notorious Ephraim Holland, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for stuffing the ballots in Cincinnati in 1876, was a member of the Ohio state democratic convention. We presume he drew up the "fraud" resolution, as he knows as much about fraud as any one.

Hon. Charles Foster declines to move across the street and run for congress in the Toledo district where he would have been sure of an election by 2,000 majority. He has promised to run in preference in his old district, which the democratic legislature remodeled so as to give 3,000 democratic majority. Foster has already made grand runs in the old eighth district, and some believe that he can overcome this great majority.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

LEADVILLE, June 26, 1878.

To the Editor of the Gazette:
I desire no controversy with you on the woman suffrage question, but your article in the GAZETTE of the 21st inst., bearing upon the report of the senate committee on privileges and elections, seems to indicate that you, in common with many other candid and honest opponents of woman suffrage, misapprehend the real grounds upon which the friends of that cause base their claims. Will you therefore permit me to briefly state the case as I understand it?

Suffrage is asked for woman, because of her natural and inalienable right to self-government. That right is God-given, else the whole theory of self-government is a delusion and the Declaration of Independence a fraud. Any human arrangement that deprives an individual of a right inherent in nature is a gross injustice and a grievous oppression, an exercise of despotic power in direct contravention to the will of the almighty. Our government is such an arrangement, since under it one-half of those entitled to self-government arbitrarily deprive the other half of the opportunity to exercise their equal right. It is therefore an instrument of oppression, and fundamentally wrong in principle. It is an aristocracy and not a democracy. It is asked that it be made a true democracy by granting to all its citizens an equal voice in deciding how and by whom they shall be governed. Anything less than this contravenes the "higher law" and renders governments defective. The question of expediency has nothing to do with it, unless human authority is to be counted higher and wiser than Divine. Natural or Divine rights are not to be annulled or questioned by individuals or combinations of individuals. These rights are as absolute in one individual as in another, or as in any number of individuals.

It follows, therefore, that when one person, or combination of persons, by virtue of might, deprives another person or combination of persons of the exercise of a natural right, a "gross injustice" is done and authority is illegitimately exercised; that so far as the natural rights of its citizens are concerned, the simple duty of government is to remove all bars to their exercise; that in the case of woman, if but a single one in the nation were for the opportunity to exercise her natural right to a voice in government, she is as much entitled to it as though all were. It is demanded that the question of expediency have nothing to do with it, and that it would be no greater injustice for one set of men in power to deprive all other men of a voice in their own government than for men in power to deprive women of the same right. It follows, consequently, that the report of the committee and your editorial remarks have no real bearing upon the question in issue. It should not be forgotten that this is neither a question of numbers or majority, nor of privilege, but of natural rights and immutable principles.

J. L. LOOMIS.
We gladly publish the above letter on a subject of such general interest to this community. We can not argue the question with Mr. Loomis because we do not agree on first principles. We do not recognize the right (or we would say privilege) of suffrage as either God-given, natural, inalienable, or immutable. The state should be managed in a way which will be conducive to the greatest good of the greatest number. We think the state has the perfect right to withhold the right of suffrage from foreign-born citizens for seven years or for life, from those who can not read and write, from intelligent, mature young men from 18 to 21, if the greatest good of the greatest number demands it. For the same reason the right may be withheld from women, also. We think that New York city would have been better governed in every way if a property and educational qualification had been required of its voters during the last fifteen years. Had this been done we think the courts of justice would not have been stained by bribery, intemperance would have been checked, life and property would have been more secure, and good morals and just government would have been better observed. Under the present circumstance we think it would be right to disenfranchise about 75,000 of the voters of New York city. We do not think the question of woman's suffrage is purely a question of abstract right. In stating our position on this subject, we may say that we do not deny that the granting of the right of suffrage is both expedient and a matter of justice, but that as yet we are unconvinced that it is expedient and just. [EDITOR OF GAZETTE.]

It is said that five-sixths of the offenses against life reported in the newspapers for April and May are directly attributable to the illegal habit of carrying deadly weapons on the person. It is a foolish boyish habit to carry pistols, especially in such peaceful communities as this. We regret to say that the law against carrying concealed weapons is very generally broken in this city by children from the ages of 15 to 25.

The Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution says: "that an enlargement of the mouth and lightness of the brain are the diseases that trouble General Sherman." We thought the Constitution had burned the bloody shirt. You ought not to remember so spitefully that march through Georgia.
